Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: With regard to Applicant's first traversal over the Double Patenting rejection applied over 10/359796- it is the position of the Examiner that Applicant is not discussing the most current set of amended claims. Currently, the only claims that exist in Application 10/359796 are 2, 7 and 9-11 with 11 being the only independent claim left. Claim 11 teaches under "a" the required layers that revived the Double patenting rejection. the limitaions under section "a" of Claim 11 encompass that of the current application, that is they both require woven fabrics having inner and outer layers with layers on them; said fabric is made of ultra high molecular weight polyethylene; have the same denier for the yarns (claims 7, 9 and 10 of 10/359796) and both application are used for the same exact skirt assembly. It should also be noted that Applicant's claim language is open ended and does not preclude the use of additional or different layers. Thus, the Double patenting is an obvious variant and is maintained. With regard to Applicant's traversals over the art rejection made over Crewe in view of Holland further in view of Landry: in that Crewe does not teach the assocation of rubber with a woven, except as pointed by Applicant in the Background Information section. This is sufficient as it teaches that it was well know in the art, and it should be noted that the reference is relied upon in it's entirety, and thus the limitation of the woven with the rubber coating, is met by this section, whether or not it is repetitous in the patent. Applicant further argues that the combination of Crewe and Holland do not teach a hovercraft. a Hovercraft is not claimed, a skirt assembly with no definitive structure other than "Assembly" is claimed. This again does not preclude the use of additional components, therefore this is also not persuasive. Applicant's traversals over Landry are also not persuasive as Landry was not relied upon for the teaching of wovens,-Crewe was. Landry was relied upon specifically for the showing that air cushioned vehicles are coated with multiple coating layers. However Figure 1 of Landry teaches a woven with multilpe coating layers.
